President's Message

Hello Blacksmiths,

The #366 Hook Show opening at Sculpture Tucson was a great success. Although it was hot and humid, with rain relief coming only as we left, it was a fun time. I'd like to thank Rich Greenwood, Richard Rozinski, Sam Rivera, and Bill Ganoe for stepping up to the plate to provide a 30 minute demo. I participated also, but it's a bit weird to thank myself. The Sculpture Tucson folks reported that there were 75 attendees in the 4-hour opening, and they were extremely pleased. If you are interested in doing a short demo for future events, please let one of the AABA officers know.

We will be in a new venue for the next 2 upcoming AABA events. The September demo and the October workshop with Mark Aspery will both be at the Jerome State Historic Park. Camping is available as are RV spots both free of charge. However, there are no amenities other than the portable restroom facility that AABA will provide. There are also hotels in the area. Jerome is a popular destination, so get your reservations early. There is still room in the Mark Aspery 5-day class and filling quickly. Contact me at president@azblacksmiths.org for cost information.

AABA is in desperate need of a Retail Manager. Richard Rozinski has been doing two jobs (1st VP and retail manager) for the last 9 months, and he cannot continue doing both. Thank you Richard for a job well done. We need someone to step up to continue the same level of service. Alternatives are to take orders at each demo and provide the items at the next demo. I'm sure no one wants to see this service be discontinued. By the way, it's ok to nominate a fellow smith.

On a happier note, the President's project for September is the pinch adjustable tong clip. See the hints within this edition. You may make a tong clip of your choice also. The November President's Project is a bottle opener. Do a web search for "blacksmith bottle opener" for ideas. Or ask a fellow smith.

What ever you do, get to your shop and forge something!

Forge On,

Steve Miller

Our September Demonstrator: Mike Riemer

Most of you probably know me, for better or worse, in one way or another, but for those that don't- My name is Mike Riemer. I'll be assisted by Dylan Cook- and accomplished smith and instructor who I find to be essential to the success of matters at hand. Dylan is a Arizona native whereas I've lived in Prescott for the better part of thirty years and taught, learned and worked on commission out of modest backyard shops for the majority of those years. Three years ago I went from self-employed to full-time employee, making door hardware and the like for The Scottsdale Art Factory. While the venue has changed the goal has remained the same: create works with integrity of tool, material and technique true to the blacksmith's trade.

OVERVIEW: The quality of your photography when submitting work for art shows and to galleries is very important. The Arizona Artist Blacksmith Association is offering a great opportunity for members. A demonstration with professional product photographer Doug Baldwin will be presented Saturday afternoon after Mike Riemer's demonstration. You are invited to bring one piece of art work to the workshop which will be professionally photographed by Doug. Please bring one table top sized piece that was created in the last 3 years. Doug will speak briefly on camera settings, camera choice, lens, and lighting. The quality of your photography when submitting work for art shows and to galleries is very important. Don't miss a chance to get a professional photo for future exhibitions and your portfolio.

ARTIST BIO: Doug Baldwin is a commercial product photographer in Arizona. ### President's Project - September

The President's Project for September is an adjustable tong clip. The inspiration was this drawing, but you're welcome to make a related design. And you are welcome to do something simpler if this looks too challenging. Bring your clip to the demo in September and show everyone what it will do. And check out the ideas and designs that other people come up with.

July Demo Report

Terry Porter

Our July demonstration was held on Saturday, July 16, in the Sculpture Studio at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. This was followed with a workshop for attendees on Sunday, July 17.

The demonstrator was Gordon Williams of Mt. Carmel, Utah. Gordon is formerly of Camp Verde, Arizona. Gordon taught the beginner classes in Camp Verde that got many of us started, and he has demonstrated at many AABA events. The AABA was thrilled to have Gordon come back to Arizona to demonstrate this month.

The main subject of the demonstration was using some cool new tricks to make a set of bolt tongs. That was also the subject of the Sunday workshop. Gordon showed the techniques and tooling necessary to complete this project. Gordon provided drawings to accompany his demonstration, and copies of those drawings are on pages 12 - 15 of this issue of The Anvil's Horn.

Intermixed with the tong demonstration, Gordon also showed how to make a veined leaf, a snake from a farrier's rasp, a textured wine bottle holder, a door pull, and a sunflower.

He also interjected a plethora of blacksmithing techniques and tips. These included:

- A). Chiseling in the leaf edges.
- B.) Since anvils have different size hardy holes, if your hardy is loose, wrap it with duct tape.
- C.) Make a "kiss" block so as to hammer a consistent height on detail in a piece.
- D.) Gordon described how he makes his propane forges so that they only consume four gallons in nine hours.
- E.) He showed the use of his texturing tool. The tool was made by welding strips along face plates and then incorporating that into a spring fuller.
- F.) Another tip was the use of a brass brush to add some color to a leaf, wizard hat, etc. The metal should be hot but not more than 600 degrees. If it is too hot the brass ends up looking black.
- G.) The use of copper sulfate (Root Killer) to create a copper look on steel. One cup of crystals dissolved in one gallon of distilled water. An addendum to this process involved using muriatic acid and hydrogen peroxide, but what this added to the process was not recorded.
- H.) Gordon showed the use of his veining tool which involved a wedge shaped piece welded into a spring fuller. In some cases this makes veining easier than a hammer, chisel and the use of a "hold down."
- I.) Gordon likes Iron Mountain Flux. While more expensive than others, the container allows for less waste, and this flux doesn't puddle as much as other fluxes and mess up the propane forge.

Special thanks goes to Brian Painter of the NAU Sculpture Studio. He provided an outstanding facility, equipment and was of major assistance with many things, especially welding.

Last July, several AABA members including Peter Sevin, Len Ledet, Ilene Jamison, Beatrice Perret, and Bill Ganoe spent several days in northeastern Spain touring ironwork in and around Barcelona. That included many of the works by Antoni Gaudi and other contemporary and historical blacksmiths in the region. <https://www.cutthecraftpodcast.com/episodes>

OR

<https://www.cutthecraftpodcast.com/episodes/caitlinmorris>

About 1:30

From the Cut the Craft introduction:

"Blacksmith Caitlin Morris is the founder of Ms. Caitlin's School of Blacksmithing in Frederick, Maryland, and 'is dedicated to sharing the craft with as many unsuspecting people as possible!' Caitlin is a dedicated teacher who learned the perils and triumphs associated with learning when she first started her craft. As a smaller-built person, she noticed the difference between technical nuance and brute strength. She learned how to get the results she wanted by breaking down body mechanics to make blacksmithing accessible to anyone and everyone who was interested."

Caitlin has many tips and observations about teaching blacksmithing that would be useful to anyone interested in teaching blacksmithing. Some tips apply specifically to teaching women. But all those tips can also be applied in teaching other subjects and activities, such as woodworking, sewing, dance, etc. Caitlin also offers several useful shop tips scattered throughout the interview.

How to Forge an Argentinean Knife and Different Problems You Can Find During the Process (0:48)
by Mariano Garabato

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IP9ikHz3qN0>

Or titled "Forging Blades" on:

<https://blacksmithswithoutborders.com>

There are several interesting things about this video.

The Argentinian knife Mariano makes is an historical knife with a wide range of uses. It is found through out much of South America,

Mariano discusses:

- Relevant metallurgy

- Design and history of the Argentinean knife

- Production process including possible problems and solutions.

This video is actually very detailed. For example, Mariano gives a detailed explanation of why he uses a dog's head hammer to forge his blades and why he prefers this particular design with the curved handle.

The video is entirely in English, but some of the diagrams include some Spanish and the temperatures are in Celsius.

Blacksmithing, the cornerstone of all crafts for centuries, has come back to life. Once rendered nearly obsolete by the Industrial Revolution and 20th Century technology, this ancient craft has undergone a contemporary renaissance. A new appreciation of the honest, enduring qualities of forged metal has developed.

At the heart of this revival has been the Artist-Blacksmith's Association of North America, Inc., a non-profit educational association dedicated to the dissemination of knowledge about the art and craft. Started by a handful of isolated blacksmiths in Georgia in 1973, ABANA now serves nearly 4,000 members.

As part of your Membership Benefits you will receive 4 issues of the Anvil's Ring and 4 issues of the Hammer's Blow Magazine each year you are a member. These magazines can not be subscribed separately but are only received by our members. We have recently added a youth membership at a reduced rate, this membership available to those 18 or under includes a subscription to only the Hammer's Blow magazine.

The Johnstown Festival 2023 is coming up. Details as they become available.
